

A Conversation with Greg Mortenson

(Co author of Three Cups of Tea)

Sunday, February 7, 2010

(Super Bowl Sunday)

Learn how your leadership journey compares to a real life agent of change, diplomat, peacemaker, visionary and advocate.

Girls are welcome to come hear "Dr." Greg Mortenson, co-author of a New York Times #1 Best Seller Three Cups of Tea and a Nobel Peace Prize Nominee, speak about being a diplomat and peacemaker, who took the power of one to make a vision come true for girls in Pakistan, and now Afghanistan. Hear first hand about "Dr." Greg's leadership journey: how one person made a difference.

What is your experience with the GSUSA Journeys?

For an activity overview of the girls' adventures awaiting them in "It's Your World --Change It" please visit the national website www.girlscouts.org/program/journeys:

Girl Scout Juniors accessed three 'power' buttons on their journey in Agent of Change:
Power of One, Power of Team and Power of Community.

Girl Scout Cadettes explored how to interact, be a Diplomat and a Peacemaker as they explored their personal life's maze in AMAZE!

Girl Scout Seniors moved forward with the steps create, guide and change as they became Visionaries on their journey to an ideal world Guided in Girltopia.

Girl Scout Ambassadors are advocates for a cause while earning Your Voice, Your World.
