

Item Donations to the Goodykoontz Museum of Girl Scout History

The museum collects and preserves objects of a historical nature related to Girl Scouting and its members, especially within Girl Scouts of San Jacinto Council or its historical predecessors, that are important comparative or reference materials about the history of the Girl Scout Movement.

Our scope of collections is as follows: "[Our purpose is] to collect and preserve objects of an historical nature related to Girl Scouting and its members, especially in the area now comprising the Girl Scouts of San Jacinto Council; and to promote interest in and disseminate information about the history of Girl Scouting within the Council."

The Goodykoontz Museum of Girl Scout History is happy to accept objects that fit our scope of collections. These objects may include, but are not limited to, the following: uniforms (sashes, vests, dresses, shirts, hats, socks, etc.), badges/patches/pins, Girl Scout memorabilia (hats, cups, plaques, dolls, etc.), pre-2000s resources (leader books, Girl Scout magazines, badge books, handbooks, etc.) or photographs illustrating girl activities, historical moments, prominent individuals or other special moments. (We ask that with all photographs, please include a piece of paper detailing the date, location, who is featured and a brief description.)

If you are interested in donating items to the museum, you must fill out the gift agreement and include it with your donation. The agreement donation form can be found at gssjc.org/museum.

Donations are accepted on a non-loan, non-restricted basis; the museum will share deaccession procedures upon request. GSSJC asks that donations not be left as a "doorstep donation" with no documentation. In doing so, you are authorizing GSSJC with the right to either accession the items into their collection or dispose of them as needed if the items do not fit collecting policies, are duplicates of items already in the collection or for any other applicable reason.

For inquiries about donations, please contact the Council History Committee staff partner at history@sjgs.org or 713-292-0300.
